

Spokesman

AIR INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

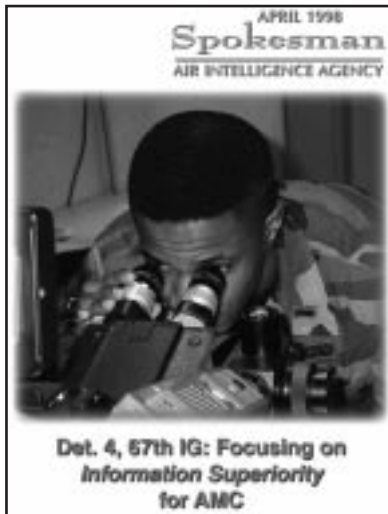

Vol. 38, No. 4

April 1998

Brig. Gen. James E. Miller
AIA Commander

Capt. Amber Cargile
Director of Public Affairs

Airman 1st Class Jennifer Gregoire
Editor

This month's cover story, "Det. 4, 67th IG: Focusing on Information Superiority for AMC," looks at how Det. 4 serves AMC and the unit's future.

On the cover, 1st Lt. James Samuel, Det. 4, 67th IG operations officer, analyzes AMC airfields to determine vulnerabilities by looking at imagery on a light board and using stereoscopic vision.

Other stories this month include "New plan to enhance intel," by Capt. Andrew Torelli, about how the Air Force plans to adopt the Army's Intelligence Preparation of the Battlespace methodology and "The fall of the Walker spy ring," by Dr. Dennis Casey, about one of the most famous espionage cases during the Cold War.

Front and back cover illustrations by John Rice, visual information specialist. Cover photo by Capt. Jim Klingmeyer.

Page 4
around the command

around the command 4

Serbo-Croatian course graduates first class

New plan to enhance intel

CARS DGS-2 completes 400th mission

Sensor Combat: the name for the game

Internship Programs Await

cover story 10

Det. 4, 67th IG: Focusing on Information Superiority for AMC

feature 12

What does it take?

AIA 50th Anniversary 14

The fall of the Walker spy ring

family news 15

Folic acid to prevent neural tube birth defects

salutes 16

AIA and JC2WC NCOs trade six stripes for seven

303rd dedicates conference room to retired Skivvy Nine chief

Junior Officer Career Cryptologic Program Board Results